A Walk to the Creek

Pam likes to take a walk. "We do not need coats now," said Pam.

"I want to walk to the creek," said Sam. "I like to see the pretty blue water."

"Be back at four," said Mom with a smile.

When the children came home, Dad said, "Where were you? What were you doing? Why is Pam wet?"

Sam sat on a seat to tell the story.
"We went for a walk to the creek. Pam saw a stick in the water. She said she could make a picture in the sand with the stick. She tried to get it, but she could not. She fell in-to the water with a plop and a yell," said Sam with a grin.

Dad and Mom will help Pam get dry.
They were very glad the children were safe.
