
INTRO TO SCREENWRITING

- Build confidence in revising and refining your writing
- 16-part course with approximately 70 hours of learning
- Equivalent to high school English credit (creative writing)

About This Course

- Learn the fundamentals of storytelling for film, including structure, character development, and genre
- Develop an original script for a short or feature film
- Enhance practical writing skills in areas such as dialogue, pacing, and subtext to create your own compelling, engaging script
- Learn how to submit your script to festivals and professional platforms
- Self-paced, engaging videos, student workshops with color workbook include

Master the art of screenwriting with Intro to Screenwriting! This 16-part, self-paced course (equivalent to 1 high school English credit) offers 70 hours of in-depth instruction. Learn the fundamentals of storytelling for film, including structure, character development, genre, and visual storytelling techniques. Build practical skills like crafting dialogue, pacing, and subtext while gaining confidence in revising and refining your work. With a colorful workbook included and guidance on submitting scripts to festivals or professional platforms, this course is your gateway to creating original, engaging scripts for short or feature-length films!